Informa Entente is at End of Resources—Jan. 15. Re-partions Comm. Goes in LONDON Jan. 11.—The Austrian government has announced to the Entente that it is at the end of its resources and no longer is in a position to continue according to a report which reached official German sources. Says a London Times dispatch from Berlin.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—From Berlin.—The Austrian government has declared its intention to resign January 15, in place of the minister of the treasury in the hands of the reparations commission, the dispatch adds.

ANNUAL MEETING OF CITY PUBLIC WELFARE BOARD

Need of Second Institution For Mental Defectives is Urged by Members

The seventh annual meeting of the Edmonton Board of Public Welfare held in conference chambers of the Civic Block on Tuesday night concluded a discussion of the need for a second institution to be set up to care for the mentally defective among the population public during the year.

J. T. J. Culleton, who acted as chairman of the meeting, said at present, "there is a fact that the Board of Public Welfare was the only organization in the city that did not receive criticism for its management of the public welfare of the mentally defective." The actual administration of the Board did not exceed $10,000, but in the previous year, this increased cost being largely due to the doubled number of applications for motherless pensions.

Concerning the winter of 1919-20, the chairman stated that a very great amount of money was spent for relief work, being $10,400, and that the Board of Public Welfare was doing its best to meet the emergency. The Board did not receive criticism for its management of the public welfare of the mentally defective.

Mr. Culleton said that in his opinion the move might properly be made by the Board of Public Welfare to hold an international disarmament conference.

DANIELS FOR BIG U.S. NAVY

In Event of no General Agreement Would Outbuild Them All He Declares

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The present time was described as ripe for the formation of a powerful naval armament by international agreement by Sen. Hiram M. Johnson, of California, during a speech before the Senate Naval Committee.

Secretary Daniels declared that in his opinion the move might properly be made by the Board of Public Welfare to hold an international disarmament conference.

Mr. Daniels added that the General Assembly should be moralized to the effect that the proposed measure of the passing of a law which shall remove the right of the Senate to the control of military armaments.

The Secretary further declared that the proposed measure of the passing of a law which shall remove the right of the Senate to the control of military armaments.

Mr. Daniels added that he thought the League of Nations would bring about a general disarmament.

Secretary Daniels told the committee that the President Wilson had not called a conference because the present administration would remain in office, such action being left to the next administration.

Mr. Daniels added because he thought the League of Nations would bring about a general disarmament.

The following resolution introduced by A. C. Clark and H. C. Smith, of Indiana, was read by the board: That the society instruct the board to notify the chairman of the Senate Naval Committee in the society, of the date of the annual meeting of the society, so that he and a nomination paper accompany each notice to enable the society to have any paper may see fit for office on the board.

In the absence of any paper, the society may, at any time, bring a general social problem to the attention of the society.

South African Situation Complex Only Possible in Empire of Miracles

TORONTO, Jan. 11.—Speaking before the Canadian club on the loyalty of South Africa to the British Empire, it was admitted that there were divergencies even among families in the loyalty question. New South Wales was the only colony where the Premier, the secretary of the Treasury and the minister of the interior were members of the South African party.

Among those who came down to town was President Reuter of the Transvaal, the secretary of the Transvaal, the minister of the interior and supporters of Kruger in the Transvaal, who were supporting as a private citizen, but Mr. Smith, the South African branch of the British party, was not present.

Mr. Smith, the South African branch of the British party, was not present.

There was a story of the loyalist son of Reuter seemed to Mr. Bowell to sum up the whole spirit of the British party. He said that when he was at the end of the Boer war he was told that the British party for Madagascars, voting never to give up the colony, but after the grant of self-government.

HON. DUNCAN MARSHALL LAYS DOWN General Principle For Family Farm Home

1920 A DISASTROUS YEAR

President Waddington Tells Agric. Societies Convention Some Cold Facts—Prize Grain

HANFORD, Jan. 11.—With the exception of the Bannockburn Agricultural Society, which opened its annual meeting with a general discussion on the general principles of agriculture, the other societies present in the hall were silent.

Waddington, in his address, said that the general principle of agriculture was that no man should farm more land than he and his family could cultivate.

Another speaker, Mr. H. C. Keay, quoted Prof. Keith, of Edinburgh University, as pointing out that the general principle of agriculture was that no man should farm more land than he and his family could cultivate.

Extra Ballot Offer Spurs Candidates on In Salesmanship Race

Enthusiastic Response to Club Members' Efforts Shown by The People of Edmonton and Northern Alberta—Many New Members Get Going in Subscription Drive—Opportune Time to Make Flying Start For Big Automobiles—Extra Credits And Extra Cash Double Incentive

The Special Offer of $50,000 Extra Credits—Halton Extraordinary—Just announced seems to be the stimulus needed to get the Club Members on to active campaigning, as well as the magnet for new members.

This is indicated by the number of new members and the enthusiasm of the Salesmanship Club within the past few days also from the returns in subscriptions to the Club, which are already starting in the race.

Now that the extra credits in their hands have climbed into the real vote-gathering column and from now on will be the chief factor in counting of their salesmanship ability. Every one who calls at Club Headquarters can see this is the last way to obtain subscriptions to The People. The people who write in from the country towns also say the same, starting that everybody from the city and surrounding towns are also rolling up a big reserve of extra credits for the big grand awards.

Elation is shown over the wonderful offer that The Bulletin makes available to all who participate in the Big Subscription Building Campaign. The extra credits and does not end until February Twenty.

Work Counts Most.

It is natural that all those who are competing are anxious to know how work counts in their work counts most.

In other words, all candidates are asked to make the most of the Halton Offer Extraordinary. This offer is $50,000 Extra Credits for subscriptions up to ten per sat. Saturday, January 21, 1927.

In addition to the credits allowed on the subscriptions according to the regular scale, the extra credits will enable a really ambitious candidate to yield a maximum of $100.

Every member of the Salesmanship Club should take full advantage of this offer. The Salesmanship Club is standing in the country districts and towns throughout right up until the last minute Saturday Night, then mail in their subscriptions with a check or Post Office Money Order.

Social Side of City Life

PERSONALS, MEETINGS, CLUB ACTIVITIES,
WEDDINGS AND SOCIAL EVENTS

Lieut.-Gov. Brett returned this morning from a vacation in the United States. He was accompanied by Mrs. Brett, who is en route to the Orient. They were accompanied by their son, Dr. Harry Brett and Miss Brett. A dispatch to Ottawa said that the party had arrived safely in New York and would be in a short time for the Islands.

The conveners of committees of the Women's Institute, and others associated with the work of the organization, and the soldiers' wives for the week beginning January 12th, attended a meeting to be held in the parlor room of the Hudson's Bay, on Friday evening, to consider, to complete final arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Barry expect to leave Saturday morning for the West. Mr. Barry will be operating at the Mayo Brook Hospital, for割.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. MacEachern, the week at his ranch at St. Albert, The Imperial Oil staff held a very successful Christmas party at the Alexander Block, having as their guests Mr. and Mrs. MacEachern and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Baker, all of New York.

The second part of the evening was devoted to cards, after which dinner was served to the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. MacEachern, after the interval, an orchestra played delightful music to which the party danced merrily until midnight.

During the evening, the band gave "Let the Rest of the World Go By" and "The Girl I Left Behind" giving greatly to the enjoyment of the evening.

The committees in charge of arrangements consisted of Miss G. A. McEachern, Mrs. G. A. McEachern, Mrs. Bremner, Mr. & T. MacEachern, Mr. & Mrs. W. H. Baker, and Mr. W. H. Haworth.

New Isabel Sutherland of Namao, was an Edmonton winter visitor, having been in the city for a month, staying in Monterey, California.

On Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. George Hunter and Mrs. M. Daws, were joint hosts at a tea held at home of Mrs. Daws. Most of the local and visiting housewives welcomed the guests as the entertainment was a success. The tea was pretty with house plants and trailing ivy vines. After a social call was made, the tea guests were invited to the dining room, where the tea party was continued with cut glass vase of carnations and ferns, reading on a

Fighting the Spectre.

Premier Meighen at Penobscot set up the tariff already as usual, but it is done in the traditional way, and proceeded to trample on the prostrate form of his hypothetical enemy. The inference from his argument elsewhere is that the Liberals or the United Farmers got into power, or if a Government backed by both came into office, the tariff schedules would be swept off the statute books, free trade would be established, the farmers of the land closed in, the farmers turned into the streets, and the country subjected to the financial shock of a complete reversal of the fiscal policy upon which its industrial system had been based.

The Premier has put on this scene so often that he almost seems serious when he does it. He knows, of course, that neither of the parties in question have any stomach for a general reorganization of mind. But Mr. Meighen has had a hard case to handle and he is making the best of it. To defend the tariff in detail as it stands would be hopeless. The Premier, who is the father of the general revision upward would be suicidal. As his own position will not stand scrutiny, the best he can do is to invite attention to the general representation of the tariff position of his opponents. If he can keep the public from noting what the Government has done and is doing he may "get by" the election. Otherwise, he is in a bind, for the Premier's fault if people get to thinking about what the tariff is and what the Government's tariff commission has been doing in the way of fixing the rates to suit its own ends is bound to be called upon every occasion to turn their gaze elsewhere and to contemplate the calamity that would befall them if his opponents got in and did what he suggests they would do.

The object of the Premier is to fix the blame as being the Meighen tariff versus free trade. His consistent contention is that there is no middle course; that those who are not for the protective tariff are as bad as the ones who are. He is a radical, who aims at tearing up the foundations of the whole industrial structure and letting things generally go to smash. That the tariff can be of service to the advantage of the public, to the advantage of the nation, is not denied. But the manufacturers out of business, is the fact that he is spending his efforts to get. There is a place for a tariff as a moderate relief if in the Meighen category. He has cut it off his list, and invites the public to believe that there is no tangible ground between Meighen and free trade.

If that were a fact, it is quite clear that this country would be in for a bad time. We have Mr. Meighen's tariff in effect now, but the factories are not in a position to compete on a scale as completely as they could be if free trade had been inaugurated at "one fell swoop." And the industrial outlook is not good, that would be called protective, tariff if it were not for a tariff. It is clear that even under an avowedly protective tariff our industrial development has not even kept pace with the growth of the home market in certain lines of manufacture. The high tariff is as power in the United States, and the chance of building up industries that can undersell the U.S. factories in their home market is bright enough to be considered, however high the tariff we have made. Our one chance as a nation to do big business abroad, pay our war debts and bring home the money with which to create a new prosperity in Canada, lies in multiplying our farm production. But the Meighen tariff penalizes the enlargement of farm production at every stage in the process. If he is right, then, the choice was only to go on hampering the development of agriculture or to shut up our factories by utterly demolishing the tariff. There is only one way to do for an indefinite continuation of the present condition of things.

Fortunately that is not the choice. Without bringing ruin to our manufacturing interests it is possible to ease down the tariff to a point which will not interfere with the development of our farming interests. The thing has been done before, and when it was done the country entered upon the one really safe road to a general economic improvement. Well, Canadian factories closed when the Laurier tariff came into effect! Instead of shutting up the owners began to look about for a place to plant and they stopped enlarging them until the Laurier tariff was abandoned and the trade strangulation policy reimposed. A silver fox comes as a result of a cross, or a series of crosses, and the black fox is the more valuable. Admittedly the future of the Bannister Automobile club.

First Things First.

The official position of the British Government is that it does not know that Valeria is in Ireland but it does know where to lay hands on him if he starts anything, and intends to do it.

The proposal that the city hire a recreation commissioner at a salary of three thousand dollars per year is not in line with the restrictions imposed by the stipulated conditions of the civic treasury. What we ought to have is a special civic department, with a commissioner on the part of the city, whose business would be to advise the city on how to spend the leisure hours. But we can get along without it for a while. The prospect rather is that people in this and other cities are not going to have quite so much leisure time as they have for the next year, or so as they have had in the past; they certainly won't if they have to dig up the money to maintain a civic amusement department and through a general spending program, with that idea.

And it is something more than a guess that such leisure time as people have are going to spend more freely than they want to; whether it is a social occasion to tell them how they ought to spend it or haven't.

If the aldermen can get sight of any three thousand dollars in the way of a civic treasury, it would be marked for some other essential purpose they would do well to spend it in fixing up some of our dilapidated sidewalks. That would have some utilization.

What is the reason that they are being thrust upon them against their will just at present? And it would go a good deal farther to make things pleasant for the community at large than if paid out as salary to an official civic joy-maker.

The U.S. Can't Afford It.

Mr. Harrington, as recalled, was without any elaborate ceremonial.

This at his own request, and in the interests of "thrift."

The action of the chief executive elect is to be commended for what is more than it can be in immediate effect. It is not likely that the inauguration ceremony would be made to use up more than a million or so of dollars.

It would probably have attracted as much attention if it had been completely as they could be if free trade had been inaugurated at "one fell swoop."

And the industrial outlook is not called protective, tariff if it were not under a bright enough light to be considered, however high the tariff

we have made. Our one chance as is a nation to do big business abroad,

pay our war debts and bring home

the money with which to create a new prosperity in Canada, lies in multiplying our farm production.

But the Meighen tariff

penalizes the enlargement of farm production at every stage in the process. If he is right, then, the choice was only to go on hampering the development of agriculture or to shut up our factories by utterly demolishing the tariff. There is only one way to do for an indefinite continuation of the present condition of things.

Fortunately that is not the choice. Without bringing ruin to our manufacturing interests it is possible to ease down the tariff to a point which will not interfere with the development of our farming interests. The thing has been done before, and when it was done the country entered upon the one really safe road to a general economic improvement. Well, Canadian factories closed when the Laurier tariff came into effect! Instead of shutting up the owners began to look about for a place to plant and they stopped enlarging them until the Laurier tariff was abandoned and the trade strangulation policy reimposed. A silver fox comes as a result of a cross, or a series of crosses, and the black fox is the more valuable. Admittedly the future of the Bannister Automobile club.

Can you tell me what a silver fox is worth the most—that of a black fox or that of a silver fox? The black fox is the shortest and best automobile route from here to the Rockies.

Could you tell me when I could get a book of readings suitable for a child my wife is 10 years old? The Standard Book and Publishing Company, Toronto.

Several inquiries have been received as to whether the school board has any plans for the prevention of accidents.

The Toronto Health Department can assure the children attending unless they are vaccinated. If parents require their children to be vaccinated, they should send their children to school.

UNEMPLOYMENT QUESTION BEFORE A.F.L. MEETING

Different Views Are Expressed on Situation by Delegates to Convention

while you sleep"

The submitting of a resolution formulated by the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council on the unemployment situation at the Alberta Federation of Labor Convention, was the first step in asking for a conference of the mayors of the principal cities and towns of Alberta, the Provincial Government, the United Farmers of Alberta, the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council and the Alberta Federation of Labor, to discuss the present situation and to take immediate action as far as possible to relieve the present emergency. The resolution was introduced on Tuesday, January 10, and brought out several different views on the subject. The following is a summary of the views expressed.

Submitted by the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council, the resolution pointed out that the G.W.A. is going to ask the Alberta Federation of Labor to refer to other workers. He pointed out in this respect that although the G.W.A. has been successful in getting men should have redress after service, the men should have the right to be placed over the other workers without regard to seniority.

Mr. E. H. Roper, of the G.W.A., stated that in his opinion that the man who served overseas did not have the right to be placed over the men who did not go overseas.

Mr. C. H. Clegg, of the G.W.A., said that the men who served overseas should be placed over the men who did not go overseas.

The G.W.A. has been instrumental in getting the men who served overseas placed over the men who did not go overseas.

The Edmonton Trades and Labor Council, in its resolution, asked the Provincial Government to prohibit the importation of foreign workers.

Mr. E. H. Roper, of the G.W.A., said that the men who served overseas should be placed over the men who did not go overseas.

Mr. C. H. Clegg, of the G.W.A., said that the men who served overseas should be placed over the men who did not go overseas.
